Course Description
This course explores theories of language and literacies development. This course outlines the development of oral and written language (speaking, listening, reading, writing, spelling, and designing). Candidates will also develop an advanced understanding of factors such as family, community, culture, and dialect upon language and literacies development.

This course is intended to question what you know, expand your current thinking about language and literacy, and force you to be able to articulate what you learn about RECOMMENDED PRACTICE in literacy instruction.

Course Objectives: All teacher preparation programs in the School of Education (SOE) are guided by a commitment to Making the Teaching Learning Connection through three Elements of Teacher competency which are at the heart of the SOE Conceptual Framework: 1) understanding and valuing the learner, 2) knowing what and how to teach and assess and how to create an environment in which learning occurs, and 3) understanding themselves as professionals. These three competencies underlie all learning and assessment in this course; they help you develop the knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary to become an effective teacher.

UNDERSTANDING AND VALUING THE LEARNER
1.) Describe the models of language acquisition as well as the many theories concerning language development (INTASC 1; NAEYC/EC 1; ACEI 1; NMSA 1; SOE Standards I & II, R2S 1.1, R2S 2.11, R2S2.16, R2S 7.1, R2S 7.2, R2S 7.3, R2S 7.4, R2S 7.5).
2.) Appreciate the impact of family and community upon language and literacy development and identify ways to include families and local communities within the classroom (INTASC 1, 5c; NAEYC/EC 1, 2; ACEI 1 & 5.2; NMSA 1; SOE Standard V, R2S 5.1, R2S 5.6, R2S 7.6, R2S 7.8, R2S 8.1, R2S 8.2).
3.) Recognize differing language patterns and dialects and develop strategies for incorporating these patterns into a systematic program of language expansion. (INTASC 1 & 3a, 3b; NAEYC/EC 1 & 4a, 4; ACEI 1 & 3.2; NMSA 1; SOE Standards I & III, R2S 2.8, R2S 2.9, R2S 5.1, R2S 5.5)
4.) Recognize the importance of story/narrative in communication within every culture and every classroom (INTASC 1, 3b, & 5b, 5c; NAEYC/EC 1, 4, & 2; ACEI 1, 2.1, &3.5; NMSA 1; SOE Standards III, V, VII, R2S 2.8, R2S 5.1).
5.) Appreciate personal storytelling as an effective teaching tool for communication with students and parents and for incorporating the local community within the classroom (INTASC 1, 3b, 5b, 5d; NAEYC/EC 1, 4, 5, 2; ACEI 1, 2.1, 3.5, & 5.2; NMSA 1 & 6; SOE Standards III, V, VII, R2S 2.10 R2S 5.1).
6.) Describe the patterns of child growth and development in language and literacies (INTASC 1; NAEYC/EC 1; ACEI 1 & 2.1; NMSA 1; SOE Standard 1, R2S 2.17, R2S 5.4).
7.) Identify the scope and sequence of competencies necessary for appropriate language and literacies development (INTASC 2b; NAEYC/EC 4b; ACEI 1 & 2.1; NMSA 1; SOE Standard II, R2S 2.10, R2S 2.11, R2S 2.16; R2S 3.1).

UNDERSTANDING YOURSELF AS A PROFESSIONAL
1.) Model effective use of the English language (INTASC 1, 2b; NAEYC 6; ACEI 5.1; NMSA 7; SOE V; SC 5).
2.) Develop personal and class definitions of language and literacy (INTASC 1; NAEYC/EC 1; NMSA 1; SOE Standards I & II, R2S 1.2).

*Working syllabus and subject to change
3) Evaluate changing self-perceptions about language and literacies, including the use thereof in teaching and learning (NCATE 5; NAEYC/EC; ACEI 2.1, NMSA 1; SOE Standards I, IV, V, VI, VII, R2S 1.2).
4) Collaborate and cooperate with other course participants in class and in the evaluation of course projects (NCATE 5; NAEYC 5 & 6, R2S 6.2).

Quizzes: (5 points each = 20 points)
Four quizzes will cover information learned over the course. All examinations are content-based (from readings, in-class discussions, class notes) and cumulative. Quizzes are 15 minutes in length and are intended to be quick snapshots of your understanding of the course material.

*Working syllabus and subject to change foundational literacy components. Requests for make-up exams must be sent to teacher in writing prior to beginning of class period.

Professionalism (Attendance, Preparedness, Demeanor, and Participation-15 points)

Prepare for the class, contribute, and ask questions. Be thoughtful and respectful. Class attendance is expected in both body and mind. There are 15 weeks of class; each week’s professionalism behaviors will determine points awarded.

Examples of quality professionalism:
- Bringing required readings and reflections submitted before class
- Asking questions
- Answering questions/responding to another student
- Active listening
- Making comments (should relate to material in the text)
- Making comments that reflect connections between course content and relevant field experiences
- Collaborating well with peers

Things to avoid:
- Turning in assignments late, or failure to submit assignments. This includes Reading Responses, (unless you have a situation that has gained written approval from instructor)
- Multiple tardies/absences (detailed below)
- Repeated refusal to participate in class activities
- Texting, spending time online for non-class related browsing, working on coursework or reading for another class
- Isolating peers or avoiding collaboration
- Unprofessional comments in class towards another person (classmate, instructor, mentoring teacher, student)

Attendance Policy
- Class attendance is expected. Students are responsible for all content and assignments for each class. Two absences for any reason are allowed, but you WILL NOT receive participation credit for that class (no matter what the reason for your absence). Upon a fifth absence, the student will be automatically withdrawn from a course with the grade of WA. WA becomes an F on a transcript.
- Students who qualify for SNAP must present their official letter from the SNAP office to the professor within the first two weeks of the course if they wish special accommodations.
- Athletes who will miss class due to athletic events must see the professor within the first two weeks of the course and submit the athletic schedule for the semester, identifying classes that will be missed. No other absences will be allowed for athletes who miss the maximum allowable absences due to athletic events.
- Students who miss more than 2 classes (one week) will receive a one point deduction for each additional missed class session.

Working syllabus and subject to change
- Multiple tardies will also result in loss of professionalism points (after 2 tardies, a point is deducted for each following tardy). If you know that you will miss a class or be late for class, please notify me via email or text as soon as possible.

Students exhibiting unprofessional behaviors are subject to loss of a professionalism point per incident. Students will rate their own professionalism a minimum of twice during the semester as a means of reflection of their professional behaviors.

Reading Response Concept Maps (2 pts each = 14 points):
Language and Literacy learning is an active and social process. How we interpret texts varies based on our own personal beliefs and experiences. Individualized responses to readings will be recorded.

Reading responses should include your personal reflections on the main concepts for learning in the readings. The logs may also include key professional vocabulary, concepts, or theories covered in the readings, and your own personal response and connections to these concepts. All responses are due in Oaks.

Clear connections to the readings must be made. It is not simply a reading summary. It is a deeper reflection of critical ideas and questions you have about the reading.

Responses May Take the Form of the Following:
- A blog post
- A podcast
- A wiki page
- A graphic organizer
- A 2 page summary
- A kahoot you create for the class

Class discussion points from each reading will be covered in the next class session’s Power Point. Please consider these points as areas of reflection.

Mini Literacy Ethnography and Reflective Paper (5 points):
To recognize the broad scope of daily literacy events in which you engage and reflect upon what these literacy events indicate about your literate and social identity, you will document all literacy events over a 24 hour period. During this period you will record when, how, with whom, and for what purposes you engage with both the print and non-print texts in your life (e.g. tweets, texts, traffic signals, pictures/images/icons). You will receive a chart in class that will serve as the template for your literacy ethnography. You will turn in your completed 24 hour chart in Oaks. After documenting the literacy events you engage in during this period, you will construct a response concerning your literacy practices & purposes behind. You will state and defend your developing definition of literacy, what it is to be literate, and the influence this has on one’s social identity through a narrative format of your choice (e.g. essay (2 pages), digital story, blog, audio podcast, other pre-approved formats). See the rubric at the bottom of the syllabus.

Working syllabus and subject to change
Language and Literacy Theory Presentation (5 points):
You and a partner will select a theory for language and literacy to read and become the specialist. You will provide a multimodal presentation of your choice for the class. The class will be using your information for their resource portfolio and course quizzes. It is important to give your peers accurate and descriptive information so that they not only understand the theory and the theorists who support it, but how it is applied in education. The class should be active participants within the presentation (graphic organizer, fill in the blank, game, discussion, etc.). Readings may not include all the information needed for presentation. It is suggested you find one other professional resource to support basic reading. Presentation should highlight professional and leadership skills seen in course and program objectives. A list of theories and possible theorists will be provided.

Resource Portfolio (25 points):
For the resource portfolio (digital), you will include literacy resources under the appropriate content heading. These resources include strategies, sample lessons, graphic organizers, student examples, articles, websites, and other information you use or gathered from others. The purpose is to expand your repertoire of instructional strategies and resources for your own teaching and as a resource to others. At the end you must have at least 5 resources per section. You may make the portfolio using a wiki, a teaching webpage, or another pre-approved digital format of your choosing. Final submission of link or file due to Oaks.
Make each section clear and distinct:
- Language and Literacy Theories (due @ midterm)
- Language (L1 and L2) and Vocabulary Development (due @ midterm)
- Phonology System (due @ final)
- Technology and Literacy (due @ final)
- Professional Development: Literacy area of interest (You may add any resources you found useful)

Literacy lesson plan (5 points):
Using lesson plan provided in class, write a description for each section within the lesson plan. Provide the definition of what the section means in your own words. Provide lesson plan(s) that contain examples of the same sections with sections labeled to match that provided in class. If you find one plan that meets all that is fine. If you need to put together a small packet of lessons to meet all the criteria that is also good.
Lesson plan development will be discussed in class

New Literacies Project for building Foundational Skills (42 points):
You and a partner will create one digital activity for students, grades prek-3, to engage in to learn more about a foundational literacy skill of your choosing (only foundational standards: phoneme segmentation, blending, identification, etc.). This activity must be age appropriate and meant as a station or activity for students to complete without the

*Working syllabus and subject to change
The activity must involve new and critical literacies. (See Lapp article). The activity must cover one ELA CCSS skill/objective which is clearly written/stated, and defined within the activity (Name the standard and objective and then say what it means in "kid speak"). The activity must be interactive, engaging, and developmentally appropriate. It is not a “sit and see” activity.

Activity may be in a Point Point, iMovie, Voicethread, etc. (your choice for medium selection but it must be multimodal). As critical literacies involve promoting and building upon local knowledge, this presentation will use local locations, landmarks, wildlife, famous people, etc. for your project (ex. use a series of video clips of well-known places around Charleston to teach a lesson on vowels “e” is for Edisto, “a” is for Atlantic, etc. in an easy to use PP or Voicethread). In other words your local "theme" must be related to the Low Country. Please see rubric for more details. See Oaks for project examples.

Critical partnerships will be assigned. Submit to critical partners by Friday at 6 p.m. in Google Drive (instructor will check for timely submission, failure to submit in Google Drive by deadline will result in the loss of points per the rubric). Use rubric to score and provided feedback. Critical partners must provide graded feedback rubrics to partners at least 48 hours in advance of due date. Also submit the critical form you completed for your peer in YOUR dropbox 48 hours in advance of due date.

DUE IN OAKS: 1) the graded rubric you created for your peer 48 hours in advance, 2) the graded rubric you received from your peer, 3) your project or a link to your project. Failure to meet the required submission times outlined in the syllabus will result in the immediate loss of points (see rubric).

Contact instructor if you have not received critical feedback within 48 hours of due date.

Phonics exam (100 points):
It is crucial as a literacy instructor of young children in this country to be able to understand the phonological and alphabetic relationships of the English language. The exam must be completed online for your midterm exam. For anyone who does not score 84% or higher at the midterm, an alternate phonics exam will be available online as a final exam. Both exams are timed. Those who score an 84% or higher at the midterm may retake the phonics final to improve their final grade.

You must show proficiency on mastery of phonics skills necessary for teaching young children to read and write. Failure to make an 84% or higher on the phonics exam will result in the completion of a disposition form due to lack of content knowledge.

Honor Code and Academic Integrity
Lying, cheating, attempted cheating, and plagiarism are violations of the College of Charleston Honor Code that, when identified, are investigated. Each instance is examined to determine the degree of deception involved.

Incidents where the professor believes the student’s actions are clearly related more to ignorance, miscommunication, or uncertainty, can be addressed by consultation with the student. We will craft a written resolution designed to help prevent the student from repeating the error in the future. The resolution, submitted by form and signed by both the professor and the student, is forwarded to the Dean of Students and remains on file.

Cases of suspected academic dishonesty will be reported directly to the Dean of Students. A student found responsible for academic dishonesty will receive a XF in the course, indicating failure of the course due to academic dishonesty. This grade will appear on the student’s transcript for two years after which the student may petition for the X to be expunged. The student may also be placed on disciplinary probation, suspended (temporary removal) or expelled (permanent removal) from the College by the Honor Board.

It is important for students to remember that unauthorized collaboration—working together without permission—is a form of cheating. Unless a professor specifies that students can work together on an assignment and/or test, no collaboration is permitted. Other forms of cheating include possessing or using an unauthorized study aid (such as a cell phones), copying from another’s exam, fabricating data, and giving unauthorized assistance.

Remember, research conducted and/or papers written for other classes cannot be used in whole or in part for any assignment in this class without obtaining prior permission from the professor.

What is the official College language about classroom disruption?
Code language that guides our responses to classroom disruption can be found in the Student Handbook: A Guide to Civil and Honorable Conduct.

The Student Code of Conduct specifically forbids disruption or obstruction of teaching, research, administration, disciplinary proceedings other college activities, including its

Working syllabus and subject to change
public-service functions on or off campus, or other authorized non-college activities when the act occurs on college premises. (Student Handbook, p.11 - 14)

The Classroom Code of Conduct (from the President's Advisory Committee) covers specific principles of civil conduct expected in a college classroom:

- Do not cut classes, come in late or leave early.
- Never leave during class unless you absolutely must. Leaving for a short break and then returning is not acceptable.
- Turn off cell phones, pagers and all other electronic devices.
- It is rude and unacceptable to talk with classmates while the professor (or another student who has the floor) is talking.
- Visible and noisy signs of restlessness are rude as well as disruptive to others.
  (Student Handbook, pp. 58-59)

Students can find a complete version of the Honor Code and all related processes in the Student Handbook at http://www.cofc.edu/studentaffairs/general_info/studenthandbook.html

Grading

ASSIGNMENTS SHOULD BE TURNED IN COMPLETE AND ON TIME IN OAKS. ALL GRADED ASSIGNMENTS ARE DUE IN OAKS. DO NOT EMAIL FINAL VERSIONS OF ASSIGNMENTS THAT ARE SUPPOSED TO BE SUBMITTED ON OAKS, ASSIGNMENTS ARE CONSIDERED LATE IF THEY ARE NOT SUBMITTED WHEN CLASS BEGINS, FAILURE TO SUBMIT ASSIGNMENTS ON TIME WILL RESULT IN THE LOSS OF ONE PROFESSIONALISM POINT. EACH DAY PAST THE DUE DATE RESULTS IN A REDUCTION OF 10% OF THE TOTAL EARNED POINTS.

Any written assignment submitted is considered a final product that will be graded on both what is written (clarity, depth, insight) and how it is written (the form of the written work).

Therefore, it is crucial to realize that correct grammar and spelling, proper punctuation, adherence to assignment guidelines, and neatness will affect your grade. As an educator, you will be expected to demonstrate competency not only in verbal but also in written communication with parents, administrators, and other educators.

Please use the resources around you to proofread and to edit your work. The Writing Lab also provides FREE, INDIVIDUALIZED help on all parts of the writing process. See www.cofc.edu/~csl/ for further information.

- The belief that all students can learn.
- Value and respect for difference.
- Value of positive human interaction.
- Intellectual curiosity and willingness to learn new knowledge.
- A commitment to inquiry, reflection, and self-assessment.
- Value of responsible, collaborative, and cooperative work.
- Sensitivity to community and cultural context.
- Responsible and ethical practice.

3. ATTENDANCE:

Class attendance and punctuality are expected professional behaviors. Students are responsible for meeting the specific attendance requirements as outlined in the syllabus for each course. A student may receive a “WA/F” for excessive absences, based on the class attendance requirements specified in the syllabus.

4. MAKE-UP EXAMINATIONS AND QUIZZES:

If a quiz or examination (other than the final examination) was missed for a legitimate reason, as determined by the professor, the professor has the discretion to administer a make-up examination. It is the responsibility of the student to make arrangements in writing with the professor for the make-up.

5. DUE DATES: Due dates for course assignments, as well as scheduled quizzes and exams, are listed in the syllabus. Any changes will be announced in class or on the google site. Consequences related to late materials are determined by the professor.

6. FINAL EXAMS:

The final exam for each course (which may be in the form of an examination, performance, or project) will only take place during the period scheduled for the final exam for that course. (Undergraduate students who have more than two final exams scheduled on the same day may arrange for an alternate time for one final exam through the Office of the Undergraduate Dean.) Graduate students have their own schedule and they need to go through the Graduate Dean for changes.

7. PAPERS:
Papers will be word processed using the style of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (most current edition).

8. HONOR SYSTEM:
All courses in the School of Education are conducted under the Honor Code of the College of Charleston. The Honor Code specifically forbids lying, cheating, attempted cheating, stealing, attempted stealing and plagiarism. Students at the College are bound by honor and by their acceptance of admission to the College to abide by the Code and to report violations. As members of the College community, students are expected to evidence a high standard of personal conduct and to respect the rights of other students, faculty, staff members, community neighbors, and visitors on campus. Students are also expected to adhere to all federal, state, and local laws. Faculty members are required to report violations of the Honor Code or Code of Conduct to the Office of Student Affairs. Conviction of an Honor Code violation in a class will result in the grade of “XF” for the course.

9. ADA ACCOMMODATIONS:
In compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), all qualified students are entitled to “reasonable accommodations.” The instructor must be notified during the first week of class of any accommodations needed. Once the Professor Notification Letter is received, take the letter to professors as early in the semester as possible (preferably during their office hours). The letter will document SNAP status and the accommodations to which you are entitled, while providing you the opportunity to arrange for timely service.
