What: The Center for Partnerships to Improve Education (CPIE) is pleased to offer Summer Research Employment program again this year. Now in its fifth year, the program provides a limited number of EHHP students the paid opportunity to gain research skills under the mentorship of an EHHP faculty member during a summer session. CPIE will be the hiring office and the faculty member will provide direct supervision of the student employee. Only applications received through the online form will be accepted.

Who: All current undergraduate and graduate students majoring in a degree program housed in EHHP are eligible to apply. Important exceptions are noted below.

- Summer Research Employment simultaneous with a SURF award or graduate assistantship is not permitted.
- Students receiving academic credit for activities related to Summer Research Employment activities may only be paid for time and effort above and beyond the scope of the work associated with the credit. This distinction must be made clear in the employment application.
- Students graduating in May 2021 are not eligible for Summer Research Employment

Though CPIE may approve a student for Summer Research Employment, the College of Charleston's Student Employment Team (housed in the Career Center) makes the final determination of that student's eligibility to work on campus. For information about student employment, visit:

Additional information: Submission of an application does not guarantee employment. With limited funds, the Center for Partnerships to Improve Education seeks to support as many high-quality applicants as possible. Decisions will be based on application quality, total number of approved applicants, and efforts to balance the distribution of funds across EHHP departments and faculty members. Students hired through Summer Research Employment will be expected to submit a reflection survey to CPIE prior to the end of their employment.
